

101108 Saturday

With my dad's recent diagnosis of incurable cancer, life has been topsy-turvy.

Yet today, despite a miserable cold, my mood lifted, and I'm more hopeful!

I'm so grateful my dad is alive and, for now, stable; and that my daughter is so healthy and happy.

I love practicing piano with her, and I find her such an inspiration.